

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

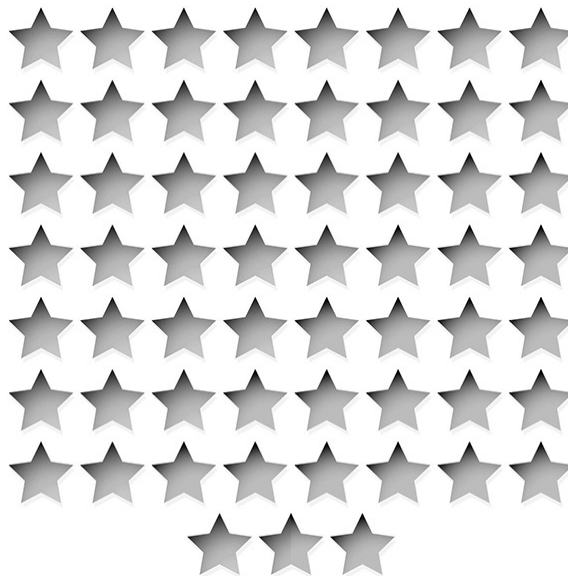

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What things have you learned from your family or friends?
- What have you taught someone to do?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about friendships, relationships, and social activities.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.
- I can express complex statements using words like who, that or which.

Let's Explore!

Peter, Vanessa and Sally want to go to their old college haunt* for coffee.

* An "old haunt" is a place you used to frequent all the time.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: Vanessa, I have to say that was an amazing meal! The other cooks that you work with must be worried they can't keep up with you.

Vanessa: I don't think so, but thanks for the compliment!

Sally: I was saying earlier that I wish I could cook like Vanessa!

Peter: I wish you could too. I'd stop by your place for dinner, too, if you could.

Vanessa: Sally wouldn't have to eat out so much if she cooked.

Sally: Meals that are very easy to make are first on my list.

Peter: You know, I wish I cooked meals that were actually edible as well.

Vanessa: Well let's work out when to meet and practice cooking dishes which are simple.

Peter: We could stop by here.

Vanessa: You can each bring along some of the ingredients.

Sally: It dawns on me we need pans that we can cook food in, too!

Peter: After we can go out to a movie.

Vanessa: I'd be into some coffee at our old favorite haunt as well.

Sally: That way we can always catch up on the latest news!

Peter: If I learn to cook, do you think the ladies that I take out will like it?

Vanessa: Oh Peter!

Let's Practice!

Why do Sally and Peter want to learn to cook?

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistakes. Use capital letters where necessary.

1. I was sayiing earlier that I wish I could cooked like Vanessa!

2. I wish you cold too!

3. I'd stopped by your place for diner too if you could.

4. Sally wouldn't had to eat out so much if she cook.

5. I wish I cooked mils that were actually edible as well.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa promises to teach Sally and Peter to make some simple dishes!

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B.

COLUMN A

1. You must worry the other cooks
2. I need meals
3. I want to use recipes
4. We would be cooking a pasta dish
5. Can I serve this to the ladies

COLUMN B

- a. that are very easy to understand.
- b. which is quite simple.
- c. that I take out?
- d. that you work with.
- e. that are actually edible after I make them.

Extension Activity

Write a dialogue promising to teach someone how to do something.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Identify some phrasal verbs you can use in your conversation.
- Have your friend talk about what they wish they could do.
- Invite them over and say how you can help them.
- Use complex sentences to make the dialogue more interesting.
- Read the dialogue with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I talk about friends and a social activity.

☐ ☐

I use phrasal verbs in an informal conversation.

☐ ☐

I clarify which things and people I am talking about.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to work out (verb): to solve
e.g. You always help me work out my problems.
- to stop by (verb): to visit
e.g. I'm glad that you stopped by today.
- to bring along (verb): to carry with e.g. I brought a couple of movies along in case you wanted to watch something.
- to dawn on (verb): to realize e.g. It would never have dawned on me to go to Japantown at 5 a.m.!
- to go out (verb): to participate in social activities
e.g. I never go out anymore!
- to be into (verb): to be interested in e.g. Are you into comic books?
- to catch up with (verb): to exchange information about your personal lives e.g. I haven't caught up with Peter in weeks!
- amazing (adjective): astonishing
e.g. It's an amazing opportunity!

Learning Points

Talking about Wishes and Imaginary Situations

You use wish and the second conditional to talk about imaginary situations in the present or future.

Wishes and sentences in the second conditional infer that what you want is probably not possible, or for some reason impossible.

You can make negative conditionals by adding a negative word or negative auxiliary verb.

For example:

I wouldn't ask you over if I had nothing to offer you.

or

I wouldn't ask you over if I didn't have anything to offer you.

Statement	Meaning
I wish I had known earlier!	I didn't know earlier.
I wouldn't ask you over if I had nothing to offer you.	I do have something to offer you.
If I could, I would eat wherever you cooked every night of the week!	I can't eat where you cook every night.
I wish I could tell you something good.	I can't tell you anything good.

Learning Points

Subject and Object Relative Clauses

When you want to clarify which person or thing you are talking about, you use a relative clause.

You can begin a relative clause with who for people, which for things or that for either people or things.

You put the relative clause immediately after the noun it talks about.

A subject relative clause describes the subject of the clause.

An object relative clause describes the object of the clause.

Examples:

- The other cooks that you work with must be worried they can't keep up with you.
- Meals that are very easy to make are first on my list.
- I wish I cooked meals that were actually edible!
- I'm cooking two pasta dishes which are simple.
- Will the ladies that I take out like it?

