

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

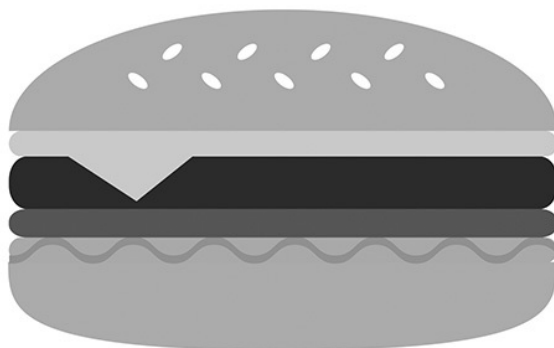

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

You must be hungry!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about friendships and relationships.
- I can show I understand someone's feelings.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

Ask your partner:

- Who are the friends that you are closest to in your life?
- What things do you talk about when you're together?
- How would you feel if they moved to another city?

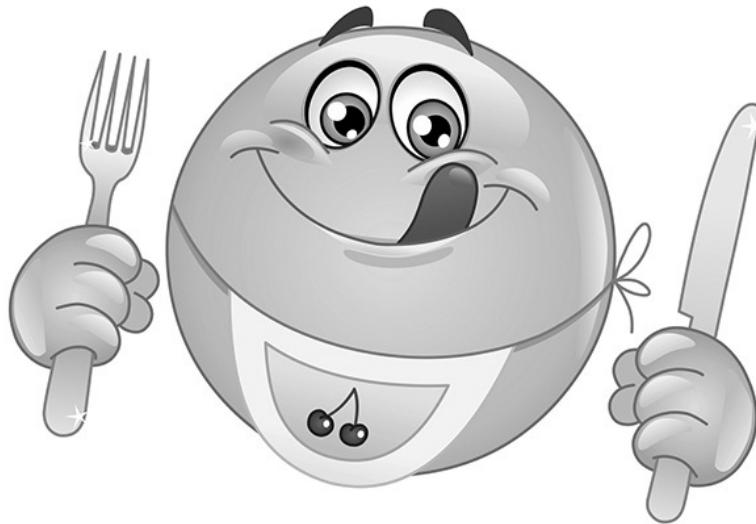

Let's Explore!

Peter is hungry? Sally says she's shocked!

* Sally says she's "shocked" because she is teasing Peter about being hungry, which does not surprise her at all!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Peter! You're here!
Peter: Ladies. You two are a sight for sore eyes!
Sally: Come in. Put your feet up. We're so pleased you're here.
Peter: Hey, Sal. What's been going on here? Girl's night in?
Vanessa: Yeah. Movies and ...
Peter: This must be what's left of the mouth-watering snacks! Oh man. I wish I had known earlier! I would gladly eat anything if you made it V!
Sally: You - hungry! I'm shocked!
Vanessa: Don't look so worried. You can't be starving! There's lots more in the kitchen. I wouldn't ask you over if I had nothing to offer you.
Peter: If I could, I would eat whatever you cooked every night of the week!
Sally: You must be excited to tell us all about your new dating prospects!
Peter: I wish I could tell you something good. Not much luck finding a girlfriend I'm afraid.
Vanessa: Well, we're here for you. You can always count on us.
Peter: Yeah. You guys are like family.
Sally: Besides, you're not ready to settle down yet, are you? You can't be interested in getting married and starting a family!
Peter: You're right. I'm not really ready to commit quite yet.

Let's Practice!

Peter, Sally and Vanessa get serious!

Instructions: Read the question. Select all the correct answers.

1. What phrases talk about friendships and relationship?

- a) dating prospects
- b) you're like family
- c) buying a house
- d) ready to settle down
- e) interested in getting married
- f) moving to an apartment
- g) starting a family
- h) ready to commit

Let's Practice!

Sally, Vanessa and Peter talk about their feelings and situations!

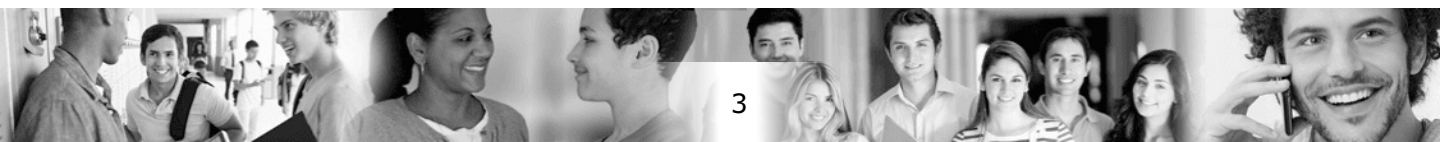

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentence.

1. snacks/ ! / the / be / mouth-watering/ of / what's / must / This / left /

2. starving/ You / ! / be / can't /

3. dating / about / new / prospects / must / be / excited / us / to / your / ! / You / tell /

4. married / ! / getting / You / in / interested / be / can't /

Extension Activity

Write a letter to a friend.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a letter to a best friend who has moved to another city for school or work.
- Talk about how he/she must be feeling.
- Say what the situation must be like for him/her.
- Talk about the things you could do together if you were there.
- Talk about the things you would do together if he/she were still in your city.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a letter to a friend in another city.

☐ ☐

I use -ing adjectives to describe situations.

☐ ☐

I use -ing adjective to describe feelings.

☐ ☐

I talk about wishes and hypothetical situations.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to put your feet up (expression): to relax and rest
e.g. Come in, put your feet up and watch a movie!
- a sight for sore eyes (expression): a person or thing you are very happy to see e.g. You two are a sight for sore eyes!
- mouth-watering (adjective): describing food that looks so good you want to eat it e.g. Wow! Movies and mouth-watering snacks.
- shocked (adjective): feeling great surprise
e.g. You're hungry! I'm shocked!
- prospect (noun): possibility of something happening
e.g. We're excited to hear all about your new dating prospects!
- starving (adjective): very hungry
e.g. Peter, you must be starving.

Learning Points

Talking about Wishes and Imaginary Situations

You use wish and the second conditional to talk about imaginary situations in the present or future.

Wishes and sentences in the second conditional infer that what you want is probably not possible, or for some reason impossible.

You can make negative conditionals by adding a negative word or negative auxiliary verb.

Example:

I wouldn't ask you over if I had nothing to offer you.

or

I wouldn't ask you over if I didn't have anything to offer you.

Statement	Meaning
I wish I had known earlier!	I didn't know earlier
I wouldn't ask you over if I had nothing to offer you.	I do have something to offer you
If I could, I would eat wherever you cooked every night of the week!	I can't eat where you cook every night
I wish I could tell you something good.	I can't tell you anything good

Showing That You Understand Someone's Feelings

You use a modal like must or can't followed by an adjective when you want to empathize with someone. When you empathize with someone, you show them that you understand their situation or feelings.

To talk about situations, use the -ing form of the adjective.

To talk about feelings use the -ed form of the adjective.

Don't forget to include the verb before the adjective.

Examples:

- This must be what's left of the mouth-watering snacks!
- You can't be starving!
- You must be excited to tell us all about your new dating prospects!
- You can't be interested in getting married!

