

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's watch a rom com!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What movie do you think is like life at college or at work?
- What social activities do college students participate in these days?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about social activities.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.
- I can express complex statements using words like who, that or which.

Let's Explore!

In the story, the main character runs into someone at a coffee shop.

* "Run into" has two meanings - to hit with a car and to meet by accident. In this dialogue it means the second.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Great movie choice Sally! The consummate college rom com that takes you back.
- Sally: Yeah! She runs into him at the coffee shop that he goes to all the time. They team up to study. He finds out about the guy that she used to be with ...
- Vanessa: The one who walked out on her! How she felt discouraged because she could never live up to his expectations, which were totally unreal.
- Sally: I wish it were all that easy!
- Vanessa: I do too. If having it all were so easy, everyone would be happy.
- Sally: If college was actually like they showed it in the movies, it would be a snap!
- Vanessa: I wish I could just go back for a few days and enjoy it all again.
- Sally: If I'm not mistaken, Peter had a crush on you early on.
- Vanessa: Let's not go there. Please. I have to say, he was the one who made me feel comfortable here in Cambridge. He took me out to eat, to concerts and to the comic book store!
- Sally: He's just one of those guys who make great friends!
- Vanessa: Hey, it's still early. We could give him a call and see what he's up to!
- Sally: Great idea!

Let's Practice!

Sally and Vanessa talk about the movie that they are watching*.
*"That they are watching": is a relative clause that clarifies what movie.

Instructions: Clasify the sentences into the correct box.

1. the one who walked out on her
2. the rom com that takes you back
3. those guys who make great friends
4. the coffee shop that he goes to all the time
5. his expectations, which were totally unreal
6. the guy that she used to be with

Subject Relative Clauses

Object Relative Clauses

Let's Practice!

There are so many things going on!

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in column A and column B.

COLUMN A

COLUMN B

1. This is the consummate
2. She runs into
3. Her old boyfriend
4. Peter had a
5. He took me out to eat, to concerts
6. We could give him a call and

- a. college rom com.
- b. crush on you early on.
- c. see what he's up to!
- d. and to the comic book store!
- e. him at the coffee shop.
- f. walked out on her.

Extension Activity

Write about social activities in college.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Identify social activities college students do today.
- Find out what college students did in the past.
- Look for past activities online, in the library, in old yearbooks at your school, or ask some older people.
- Use the information to write about what you wish you could do and can't do.
- Write what you would do if could.
- Write what you actually do today.
- Read your sentences to a partner and ask them how they feel about the activities.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I do research on what college students did as social activities in the past.

☐ ☐

I use the research to talk about wishes and imaginary situations.

☐ ☐

I ask a partner how they would feel about the past social situations.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- rom com (noun): romantic comedy
e.g. I love watching rom coms!
- consummate (adjective): perfect in every way
e.g. That was the consummate college rom com!
- to team up (verb): to work together
e.g. They teamed up to get the work finished.
- to run into (verb): to meet by accident
e.g. She ran into him at the coffee shop.
- to walk out on (verb): to end a relationship
e.g. He walked out her when she needed him!
- to be a snap (expression): to be easy
e.g. Making those cookies was a snap.
- crush (noun): a strong temporary attraction
e.g. Didn't Peter have a crush on you, Vanessa?
- to be up to (verb): to be doing
e.g. What are you up to this weekend?
- to live up to (verb): to meet a standard
e.g. I could never live up to his expectations.
- to take you back (verb): to bring back memories
e.g. This movie takes me back to my college days.

Learning Points

Subject and Object Relative Clauses

When you want to clarify which person or thing you are talking about, you use a relative clause.

You can begin a relative clause with who for people, which for things or that for either people or things.

You put the relative clause immediately after the noun it talks about.

A subject relative clause describes the subject of the clause.

An object relative clause describes the object of the clause.

Example	Clause	Relative Connector	Type of Relative Clause
The consummate college rom com that takes you back.	that takes you back	that	subject
The one who walked out on her!	who walked out on her	who	subject
She could never live up to his expectations, which were totally unreal.	which were totally unreal	which	subject
She runs into him at the coffee shop that he goes to all the time.	that he goes to all the time	that	object
He finds out about the guy that she used to be with.	that she used to be with	that	object

Learning Points

Talking about Wishes and Imaginary Situations

You use wish and the second conditional to talk about imaginary situations in the present or future.

Wishes and sentences in the second conditional infer that what you want is probably not possible, or for some reason impossible.

Statement	Meaning
I wish it were all that easy!	it's not that easy
If having it all were so easy, everyone would be happy.	everyone is not happy
If college was actually like they showed it in the movies, it would be a snap!	college is not like they show it in the movies
I wish I could just go back for a few days and enjoy it all again.	I can't go back
I wish I were young again like those kids in the movie!	I am not young like the kids in the movie

